Gentlemen:

In behalf of Alene J. Simkins, my wife, I am returning herewith the Passenger Vehicle Registration form and billing sent to her to cover a fictitious or non-existent license plate No. FIO-200. Our car does bear license plate EIO-200; we have received Registration notice for this for which check will be forthcoming in a few days.

Several weeks ago there was an exchange of correspondence concerning an error that has crept into your records. The more we attempted to explain, the more confused your office seemed to be. Please, please have a supervisor check this through in order to correct your records and relieve us of further concern and more letter writing. Plates EIO-200 were issued to us on the new cream-and-black aluminum plates, after long-time use of plates No. E/U 87L. There has never been plates numbered FIO-200 in our possession or in our knowledge, and we tried to make this clear when notified by your office that our license registration card should be returned to be reissued in this erroneous number. Can you please give enough serious attention to this in order to clear it up once and for all? We'll be very grateful.

Very truly yours,

EAGLE-A
